

Distro

An agent that facilitates broad distribution of finalized design work throughout the company, keeping various forms of documentation in sync, and ensuring that everyone who needs to talk about our products has the latest information.

- 1. Make a copy of this board
- 2. Lay out your function's lifecycle stages end to end, one column each - straight from your leader's blueprint.
- 3. Under each stage, sticky every step you actually do. Be honest about the small, repetitive ones.
- 4. Colour each sticky: pink if it's manual and predictable, grey if it needs human judgement.
- 5. Star your two or three strongest agent candidates - the teal stickies that eat the most hours.
- 6. Bring the board to the build days. Those starred candidates are your first agents.
